Review:

Deuter is a pure alchemist, once more weaving together the mystery of sound and silence. Although he is not playing any instruments on this album, you can feel his presence in the delicate weaving of the waves. Deuter possess a profound ability to listen and capture the essence of nature, leaving the pure sound intact, transporting the listener to a space of transformational bliss.

Artist Biography:

Deuter is the seminal New Age musician, publishing for over 40 years! Also a Reiki practitioner, Deuter lives and works in the mountains of Santa Fe, NM, creating the contemplative, healing music he has become renowned for. Through feeling, awareness and experience, and constantly inspired by the natural world around him, he creates music that transports the listener to a space of peacefulness and wellbeing. He continues to learn and master an ever-expanding array of instruments including the drums, shakuhachi, cello, koto, sitar, Tibetan singing bowls, santoor, bouzouki, and keyboards.

Album Description:

During his numerous travels around the world, Deuter recorded the sounds of the Ocean. Each track conveys the vibrations and sounds from a unique healing spot on the Earth. Recorded live with no other sounds added. For Deuter, the pure sounds of Nature are the ultimate sounds. Nothing need be added, and nothing taken away. One just needs to learn to hear, and enter into harmony with the natural movements of each track. These Pure Sounds are the Healing Flow of the Earth. No effort is needed. One just needs to listen. Listening can assist one to become more harmonized with the earth. These elemental sounds help promote balance and a state of natural rhythm. One's attunement to this natural flow can help promote states of deep meditative silence, deeper sleep, and a calming atmosphere for children, adults, and animals alike.
